between the Giants and Dodgers this afternoon and when that is done the National Leaguers hit the trail for the West, a trail that keeps them York twirler they could beat. away until July 26. That trip, according to Wilbert Robinson, will pracitoally decide what club shall float the next gonfalon-a good word, that "I know," said Uncle Wilbert when that was explained to him. "But I don't want to go around blowing about a pennant for fear that I will get another kick in the pants. But it's this way: Every time that we have been cornered we've fought our way and as yet they haven't been.

have been cornered we've fought our way out and as yet they haven't been able to take that lead away from us. That, to me, is an awful good sign of a good ball club.

By Bozeman Bulger.

With the Games in what seems like an utter state of collapse, it is high time that New York fans were considering the pennant chance of Dodgers and Yanks. We must have a world's series here-

The concluding fight takes place the Yanks. Donovan had been count.
